Indian Treaty.

JAMES MONROE.
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

To all and singular to whom these presents shall come: greeting;

Whereas a Treaty between the United States of America and the Chippewa nation of Indians, was made and concluded on the twenty-fourth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nineteen, at Saginaw, in the Territory of Michigan, by a Commissioner on the part of the United States, and certain Chiefs and Warriors of the said nation, on the part and in behalf of the said nation; which treaty is in the words following, to wit: Articles of a Treaty made and concluded at Saginaw, in the Territory of Michigan, between the United States of America, and the Chippewa nation of Indians.

ART. 1. The Chippewa nation of Indians, in consideration of the stipulations herein made on the part of the United States, do hereby, forever, cede to the United States the land comprehended within the following lines and boundaries: Beginning at a point in the present Indian boundary line, which runs due north from the mouth of the great Auglaize river, six miles south of the place where the base line, so called, intersects the same; thence, west, sixty miles; thence, in a direct line, to the head of Thunder Bay River; thence, down the same, following the courses thereof, to the mouth; thence, northeast, to the boundary line between the United States and the British Province of Upper Canada; thence, with the same, to the line established by the treaty of Detroit, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seven; thence, with the said line, to the place of beginning.

ART. 2. From the cession aforesaid the following tracts of land shall be reserved, for the use of the Chippewa nation of Indians:

One tract, of eight thousand acres, on the east side of the river Au Sable, near where the Indians now live.

One tract, of two thousand acres, on the river Mesagawick.

One tract, of six thousand acres, on the north side of the river Kawkawling, at the Indian village.

One tract, of five thousand seven hundred and sixty acres, upon the Flint river, to include Ream's village, and a place called Kishkawawee.

One tract, of eight thousand acres, on the head of the river Huron, which empties into the Saginaw river, at the village of Otusson.

One island in the Saginaw Bay.

One tract, of two thousand acres, where Nabobask formerly lived.

One tract, of one thousand acres, near the island in the Saginaw river.

One tract, of six hundred and forty acres, at the bend of the river Huron, which empties into the Saginaw river.

One tract, of two thousand acres, at the mouth of Point Augrais river.

One tract, of one thousand acres, on the Huron, at Menocquet's village.

One tract, of ten thousand acres, on the Shawassee river, at a place called the Big Rock.

One tract, of three thousand acres, on the Shawassee river, at Ketchewaun daganink.

One tract, of six thousand acres, at the Little Forks of the Tetabawasink river.

One tract, of six thousand acres, at the Black Bird's town, on the Tetabawasink river.

One tract, of forty thousand acres, on the west side of the Saginaw river, to be hereafter located.

ART. 3. There shall be reserved, for the use of each of the persons hereinafter mentioned and their heirs, which persons are all Indians by descent, the following tracts of land:

For the use of John Riley, the son of Menawcumequoqua, a Chippewa woman, six hundred and forty acres of land, beginning at the head of the first marsh above the mouth of the Saginaw river, on the east side thereof.

For the use of Peter Riley, the son of Menawcumequoqua, a Chippewa woman, six hundred and forty acres of land, beginning about and adjoining the apple trees on the west side of the Saginaw river, and running up the same for quantity.

For the use of James Riley, the son of Menawcumequoqua, a Chippewa woman, six hundred and forty acres, beginning on the east side of the Saginaw river, nearly opposite to Campeau's trading house, and running up the river for quantity.

For the use of Kawkawiskou, or the Crow, a Chippewa chief, six hundred and forty acres of land, on the east side of the Saginaw river, at a place called Menitogow, and to include, in the said six hundred and forty acres, the island opposite to the said place.

For the use of Nowokeshik, Metawanene, Mokitchenogwa, Nendashemaw, Petabonagwa, Messawwakut, Chiechals Kit hegequoqua, Sagosequa Annoketogwa, and Tawcumequoqua, each, six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located at and near the grand traverse of the Flint river, in such manner as the President of the United States may direct.

For the use of the children of Bokow-tonden, six hundred and forty acres, on the Kawkawling river.

ART. 4. In consideration of the cession aforesaid, the United States agree to pay to the Chippewa nation of Indians, annually, for ever, the sum of one thousand dollars in silver; and do also agree that all annuities due by any former treaty to the said tribe, shall be hereafter paid in silver.

ART. 5. The stipulation contained in the treaty of Greenville, relative to the right of the Indians to hunt upon the land ceded, while it continues the property of the United States, shall apply to this treaty; and the Indians shall for the same term, enjoy the privilege of making sugar upon the same land, committing no unnecessary waste upon the trees.

ART. 6. The United States agree to pay to the Indians the value of any improvements which they may be obliged to abandon, in consequence of the lines established by this treaty, and which improvements add real value to the land.

ART. 7. The United States reserve to the proper authority the right to make roads through and part of the land reserved by this treaty.

ART. 8. The United States engage to provide and support a blacksmith for the Indians, at Saginaw, so long as the President of the United States may think proper, and to furnish the Chippewa Indians with such farming utensils and cattle, and to employ such persons to aid them in their agriculture, as the President may deem expedient.

ART. 9. This treaty shall take effect, and be obligatory on the contracting parties, so soon as the same shall be ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof.

In testimony whereof, the said Lewis Cass, commissioner as aforesaid, and the Chiefs and Warriors of the Chippewa nation of Indians, have hereunto set their hands, at Saginaw, in the Territory of Michigan, this twenty-fourth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nineteen.

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, James Monroe, President of the United States of America, having seen and considered the said Treaty, have, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, accepted, ratified, and confirmed the same, and every clause and article thereof, with the exception of the article supplementary thereto.

In testimony whereof, I have caused [s.] the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed, having first signed the same with my hand.

Done at the City of Washington, this twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty, and of the Independence of the United States the forty-fourth.

A REQUEST.
I RESPECTFULLY request the public,
not to permit themselves to be further deceived against me, by the many base falsehoods that have been circulated respecting the unfortunate disturbances in my family, as I shall, after the termination of the suit for a divorce, and after Mrs. Evans is no longer my wife, appear before the public in pamphlet form, with the bill and answer, and a number of additional observations, wherein I shall attempt (and feel confident of success with every liberal and unprejudiced mind) to show that however imprudently and foolishly Mrs.
E. and myself have acted, yet that neither her nor myself have been near as much to blame in the affair as some of her relations—which is truly virtuous as far as I know or believe, prudently economical and a kind and affectionate mother. My business compels me to go to Missouri immediately, and shall not return until next October. Should any thing appear against me in the mean time,
the public will please suspend their opinions until my return, at which time I will furnish them with the other side of the question. I have thus long remained silent on the subject through delicacy, and intended ever to remain so, and should have, if my enemies had done me only one fourth justice; but in consequence of so many unjust and injurious reports being put in circulation about me, and I remaining silent, a great number of persons have improperly construed my silence into guilt, and concluded that I feared an investigation, which must be the apology for my present and future course, and pledge myself that it is with the greatest degree of reluctance and delicacy, that I now appear before the public, and can assure them, that such is the respect that I have for Mrs. Evans, that if I was compelled to seriously criminate her,
I should ever now and ever hereafter remain silent, whatever might be said about me.

JOHN T. EVANS.

Lexington, February 5, 1819—4f

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE U-NITED STATES.

Whereas by an act of congress passed on the 3d of March, 1817, entitled "An act to authorize the appointment of a Surveyor for the lands in the northern part of the Mississippi Territory, and the sale of certain lands therein described," the President of the United States is authorized to cause certain lands to be sold:

Therefore, I, James Monroe, President of the United States, do hereby declare and make known, that public sales shall be held at Huntsville, in Alabama, for the disposal (according to law) of the following lands, viz:

On the 2d Monday in October next,
for the sale of townships 10 and 13, in range 2, E.; townships 9, 10, 11, and 14, in range 3, E.; townships 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, in range 4, E.; townships 12, 13, and 14, in range 5, E.; and township 12, in range 7, E. Also, the lands in the tract commonly called Colbert's reserve.

On the 1st Monday in December
next, for the sale of townships 11, 12, 13,
and 14, in range 3, W.; townships 12, 13, and 14, in range 6, W.; townships 11, 12, 13, and 14, in range 7, W.;
townships 12, 13, 14, in range 9, W.;
townships 13, and 14, in range 10, W.;
and township 14, in range 11, W.; Also,
the lands adjoining the town of Marathon, which have not been offered for sale, except such lands as have been reserved by law for the support of schools, or for other purposes. The lands shall be sold in regular numerical order, commencing with the lowest number of section, township, and range.

Given under my hand, at the city of Washington, the 22d day June 1820.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has taken what will be known establishment in Market st.
next door to the Pittsburgh Mail Stage Office, and lately occupied by Mr. George Vohe. To those who have been accustomed to resort to this house, it is unnecessary to point out its superior advantages. For the information of others, however, he deems it proper to state that its situation is central, high, healthy and convenient to business; an extensive range of backbuildings, consisting of lodging rooms, afford a fine view of the city to the eastward, and admit of a free and uninterrupted circulation of air, and what will give them a decided preference in the opinion of many,
is the attachment thereto of balconies, so constructed as not only to afford pleasant promenades, but easy means of escape in the event of necessity from any sudden alarm of fire. The great western Stages start every morning from the door, and on the premises is one of the best Livery Stables in the city, conducted by Mr. John Tomlinson, where travellers horses will be faithfully attended to. With these advantages, and some further improvements now making, added to his own unremitting exertions to please, the Subscriber confidently hopes for, and very respectfully solicits, a share public patronage.

A Negro Woman for Sale.
THE subscriber has a likely NEGRO WO-MAN, about 20 years of age, and under good character, whom he offers for sale—
she is a good spinner, and sewer; she is a good cook, and well calculated for a housewife. The subscriber would swap her for a likely boy. He has also two good Mu-

FOREIGN.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

NEW-YORK, JULY 22.

By the fast sailing ship Martha, capt. Skelchey, which arrived last night in 33 days from Liverpool, the editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received Liverpool papers to the 15th of June, and London papers to the 13th, inclusive. Our previous advices, with the exception of a few paragraphs, received via Halifax, were only to the 20th of May. We have examined our files with close attention, & have taken much pains to compress into one paper all the matter of special interest.

ENGLAND has been thrown into sudden ferment and agitation by the sudden arrival of the Queen. Soon after her majesty reached London she communicated an important message to the house of commons, drawn up in bold and confident terms, and protesting against the project in contemplation of appointing a secret committee to investigate her conduct since she has been abroad. She says she wants the fullest enquiry into her conduct, and claims an open investigation—a privilege not denied to the meanest individual in the state.

By the message of the King it appears that he is determined that an investigation shall take place.

Mr. Brougham presented the message from the queen to the house of commons; and the papers are filled with the interesting discussion which followed. No decisive measures had been adopted, and the subject had been postponed for a few days to give the Ministry time for deliberation. Some of the papers speak of hopes being entertained that the differences between the royal parties will be amicably adjusted.

In reply to a note from Lord Liverpool, in which his lordship stated, that notwithstanding all that had passed any suggestions which her majesty may have to offer upon the propositions submitted in April last, would be received, her majesty said—

"That she demanded all the rights belonging to the Queen of England; that, before she was in possession of all her dignities, she could not listen to any other proposal; that, when she was restored to them, she would be ready to listen to any proposals of his majesty's ministers."

The majority in the house of lords, in favor of lord Liverpool's motion for the appointment of a secret committee to investigate the conduct of the Queen, was 79.

The question for a postponement of proceedings in the house of commons was carried unanimously.

Her majesty has been received with great attention by the people, and, from the spirit they have manifested, we should infer that, whether her majesty is guilty or not, an attempt of the government to proceed to extremity with her would well nigh produce a revolution.

Ever since the Queen arrived in London that metropolis has been the theatre of perpetual riot. All who would not huzza and puff off their hats in honor of her majesty were pelted with mud, brick-bats, &c. &c. and often, after having complied with the requisition, they were pelted with mud for the diversion of the mob. Carlton House was assailed, and the windows of lord Sidmouth's and lord Castlereagh's houses and others broken to pieces. The military were on duty, but the king had given orders not to take hostile measures for defence, unless in the extreme case of absolute necessity.

[In our next, we shall publish the details of this news, which, trivial as a national disgrace, may be thought here, is of high national importance to England.]

On the 6th, the following Message, was received in both houses of parliament.

GEORGE R

"The King thinks it necessary, in consequence of the arrival of the Queen, to communicate to the House of Lords certain papers respecting the conduct of her Majesty since her departure from this kingdom, which he recommends to the immediate and serious consideration of the house."

"The King has felt the most anxious desire to avert the necessity of any disclosure and discussion which must be as painful to his people, as they can be to himself; but the step now taken by the Queen leaves him no alternative."

"The King has the fullest confidence that, in consequence of this communication, the House of Lords will adopt that course of proceeding, which the justice of the case and the honor and dignity of his Majesty's crown may require."

The following is the Message communicated to the House of Commons, by Mr. Brougham, pursuant to an order of her Majesty.

"The Queen thinks it necessary to inform the House of Commons, that she has been induced to return to England, in consequence of the measures pursued against her honor and peace for some time by secret agents abroad, and lately sanctioned by the conduct of the government at home. In adopting this course, her Majesty has had no other purpose whatsoever but the defence of her character, and the maintenance of those just rights, which have devolved upon her by the death of that revered Monarch in whose high honor and unshaken affection she had always found the surest support."

Upon her arrival, the Queen is surprised to find that a message has been sent down to Parliament requiring its attention to written documents; and she learns with still greater astonishment, that there is an intention of proposing that those should be referred to a secret committee. It is this day 14 years since the first charges were brought against her Majesty. Then, and upon every occasion during that long period, she has shewed the utmost readiness to meet her accusers, and to court the fullest enquiry into her conduct. She also now desires an open investigation, in which she may see both the charges and the witnesses against her; a privilege not denied to the meanest subject of the state. In the face of the Sovereign, the Parliament and the Country, she solemnly protests against the formation of a secret tribunal to examine documents, privately prepared by her enemies, as a proceeding unknown to the law of the land, and a flagrant violation of all the principles of justice. She relies with full confidence upon the integrity of the house of commons for defended the only attempt she has any reason to fear. The Queen cannot forbear to add, that even before any proceedings were resolved upon, she had been treated in a manner too well calculated to prejudice her case. The omission of her name in the Liturgy, the withholding the means of conveyance usually afforded to all the branches of the royal family, the refusal even of an answer to her application for a place of residence in the royal mansions, and the studied slight both of English ministers abroad, and of the agents of all foreign powers over whom the English Government had any influence—must be viewed as measures designed to prejudice the world against her; and could only have been justified by trial and conviction."

LONDON, JUNE 13.

The calamitous state of Ireland, owing to the stoppage and failure of the different banks, exceeds all description, and by the mails of yesterday appears to be increasing rather than diminishing. Business is at an end in the province of Munster, and whole districts are ruined. The butter trade, which promised to be very brisk in Cork and Waterford, is entirely suspended. Two other banks, those of Kilkenny and Waterford, have failed in the south of Ireland.

The latter bank was held by Mr. W. Newport, the younger and only brother of Sir J. Newport. Mr. Newport died suddenly on the day before the failure was announced, and his death was stated as the reason for closing the bank.

Paris is in a very unquiet state, and alarming tumults have taken place, in consequence of the debates upon the election law. The debates continued to run high. The Liberals complain that troops have been called out to disperse the people. M. de Girardin said, such a spectacle he had not before witnessed for thirty years. Paris, he said, resembled a captured city: troops stationed in various quarters and posts fixed for their attendance. He felt assured that the exasperation had been excited by the appearance of the regular force. On the other hand, it was said that the conduct of the militia had exhibited great moderation.

The groups that had been dispersed, were shouting—"Long live the Emperor!" One or two lives had been lost. Frequent skirmishings had taken place in the public places, between the Royalists, and the Liberals. The weapons used were generally canes or sticks with ferrules, and the wounded were numerous. A great number of arrests have taken place.

PARIS, JUNE 8.

Louvel was executed yesterday evening, at six o'clock. He had preserved to the very last moment, without the slightest intermission, that extraordinary and unshrinking apathy, which he displayed through the course of his confinement and trial. His countenance, as he went along to the scaffold, even wore a smile of content. He assisted the executioner in the preparations for the last dreadful instant.

PARIS, JUNE 8.

After the execution of the murderer Louvel, the multitude dispersed peacefully. The most perfect calm appeared to reign throughout the capital. This state of apparent security was of short duration. At half past eight o'clock, an assemblage of several hundred individuals took place on the Boulevard des Capucins, armed with sticks. They paraded in mass, exclaiming, "The Charter forever!" "Long live the Emperor!" Still more criminal cries were heard, but they are of a nature so atrocious, that we will not venture to repeat them. This seditious confederacy marched along the Boulevards to the Porte St. Denis, on their arrival at which their numbers were much increased. They were met at the entrance of the Boulevard Bonne Nouvelle, by a piquet of Horse National Guard, who attempted in vain to arrest their further progress. A detachment of the Dragoons of the Royal Guard, and another of the Gendarmes, fell in with them at the Chateau d'Eau, and dispersed them. Several were arrested. Some of them repaired to the faubourg St. Antoine, uttering seditious cries which had no other effect than to occasion the shutting up of the shops. The presence of the troops of the line, stationed in that faubourg, restrained them from further excesses: at ten o'clock, tranquillity was restored. This evening, at nine, all was quiet in the metropolis.

GERMANY.

The execution of Sandt, the murderer of Kotzebue, took place on the 20th of May. A great multitude assembled to witness the execution. It took place not at ten o'clock, as was announced, but at six. He was desirous of addressing the populace; but the president of the court of justice, to whom he had given his word not to do so, reminded him, that doubtless he did not wish to perjure himself immediately previous to death. He therefore confined himself to merely declaring that he died for his country. He evinced much calmness and did not accept the assistance of a minister of religion. A great number of students from Heidelberg, who travelled with all speed to be present at his execution, only arrived at the moment when the executioner was exhibiting the severed head. Several steeped their handkerchiefs in his blood. Sandt wore the Germanic costume.

Late News of Brion's Expedition to the Spanish Main.

By the brig Argus, arrived at Portsmouth from Bermuda, the editors of the Oracle have received Jamaica papers to the 12th June.

They state that an engagement took place on the 24th May, between the Royalists and the Independents, at Rio de la Hache, the former commanded by colonel Montillo; after being warmly engaged for two hours, with an army of 2700 men, against 709, the royalists retreated to Morino, with the loss of one hundred and eighty men, and the Independents lost thirty men in killed and wounded. At the termination of the contest, the officers of the independent forces applied to Brion for their pay, but he did not comply with their demand, and fearful that they would unite against him, he took away their arms, and embarked them on board several vessels, and then sailed from the above port.

The town of Rio de la Hache was set fire to on the night of the 4th June, and the fort blown up, supposed to have been done by the orders of Brion, who it is conjectured has gone to St. Domingo.

The town of Alviere, near Rio de la Hache, was set fire to and burnt on the 15th May, by the Independents. The troops evinced a good deal of insubordination, and all communication was cut off with the interior.

Paris, June 10.

"Yesterday (Friday) evening, at nine o'clock, an assemblage of between three and four hundred individuals took place at Port St. Martin. A considerable force was directed to this point, and there paraded up and down for the interval of an hour. At half past 10 o'clock several detachments of cuirassiers, provoked by seditious cries, galloped down the boulevard, and dispersed them. They appeared mostly young men between 16 and 17 years of age. Some men of mature age and suspicious appearance, were observed amongst them. All the shops were closed. They re-assembled on the Place de l'Estrapade, whither troops were sent, on whose appearance the champions of the Charter (Chartiers) peaceably withdrew."

"Numerous assemblages took place again this evening on the Boulevards, from the Porte St. Denis to the Chateau d'Eau; troops were posted the whole length, and their presence alone restrained the factions, who sought an occasion to renew the scenes of the preceding days. It is said that considerable sums of money have been employed to keep up these commotions."

"Yesterday very considerable assemblages took place on the Boulevard de Temple. The cries of 'the Charter forever!' were frequently heard. Detachments of cavalry presently dispersed them in a determined manner. It is said that many persons have been wounded."

"The orange walk, fronting the Carrousel, continues occupied by a battalion of the infantry of the royal guard. Sentinels are stationed all round the Thuilleries, and no person is permitted to stop near these limits."

American Jaconet Mulin.—We have at this moment before us a piece of Jaconet mulin, of a fabric so perfect in every particular, that we may safely assert it to be equal in every respect to any thing of the kind, produced in the world.

Familiar with the finest webs of Asia, we can confidently assert that piece before us is equal in beauty, evenness, and much superior in the finishing to the fine mulls of Hindostan.

This piece is the first experiment made at the factory of Messrs. Trop & Sadaal, of this neighborhood, yet it will bear inspection and comparison with any foreign production of the same number of yarn.

This jaconet rivals in beauty and texture the lawns of Flanders, and for cravats, ruffles, or fine dresses, has no superior; and we earnestly recommend the products of these ingenious manufacturers to the notice and patronage of every friend of American prosperity.

FROM THE GAZETTE OF BAGOTA.

(Capital of Cundinamarca.) Decree of the President, Bolivar, constituting a college for the education of the orphan children of the patriots, put to death by Morillo, in place of the former Convent of Capuchins.

Simon Bolivar, President of the Republic, &c. Considering that public instruction and a liberal education, are the purest means of obtaining and securing public prosperity and the most solid basis of the liberties of the people; and that there must be a great number of unfortunate child enin Cundinamarca, whose fathers have been immolated on the altar of their country, by the cruelty of the Spanish commander, and who have been left without any other hope, of protection, or subsistence, or education, but that of the republic, in whose cause they were sacrificed; I have judged it proper to decree as follows:

Article 1. The convent of Capuchins in this capital, having been abandoned by the flight of those friars, is, by this decree, henceforth appropriated and established as a college, for the education of the orphans, of the citizens who have been sacrificed by the Spanish authorities, and for all other orphans, and children of persons reduced by whatever cause to poverty; and of all children or foundlings exposed; and the expenses to be defrayed by the republic.

Art. 2 For the present, the children only of these whose fathers or protectors were sacrificed for their fidelity to their country, on the scaffold or in the field of battle, shall be admitted; and their admission shall be immediate.

Art. 3. The college shall be placed under the care of a director, specially charged with its superintendence, economy, and interior administration.

The director to be the superior officer of this college; and it shall be his duty to take special care, and to provide adequate means for bestowing on the children committed to his direction the most virtuous education, in conformity with the liberal principles of republican government.

Art. IV. The directors, as well as the instructors and preceptors, shall be appointed by the government.

Art. V. Until the college shall possess funds adequate to the compensation of teachers of all the sciences, the children shall be instructed in the elements of grammar, the Spanish language, the principles of religion, morals, logic, drawing, mathematics, experimental philosophy, history, geography, and topography.

Art. VI. The funds of the college shall consist for the present of the $24 000, which Dr. J. Y. Gutierrez bequeathed by his will an testament to be applied for the uses of public education; together with the funds belonging to the former convent & community of capuchin friars; any deficiency which may arise, shall be supplied out of the public revenue of the republic.

Art. VII. A special code of internal regulations shall determine and regulate every department of education, administration, service, and economy, of the college.

Let this decree be printed and published, circulated, and duly carried into execution.

Given and signed by my hand, and sealed with the provisional seal of the republic, and countersigned by the secretary of the government, at the Head Quarters at Santa Fe; the 17th September 1819, (9th year)

FINANCIAL DECREE

SIMON BOLIVAR, President of the Republic, &c.

Considering that in the present state of the war of the republic, the national revenues are scarcely adequate to cover the necessary and indispensable expenses of the army, such as clothing, arms, equipments of all kinds, and subsistence;

Considering also, that the frequent and exorbitant contributions extorted by the rapacity of the enemy from this province, have reduced the resources of the people to a situation which forbids his resort to extraordinary exactions; in the view to reconcile as much as circumstances will admit, the general interests with those of the public functionaries, I decreed as follows:

Art. I. Every person in the service of the republic, whose appointments are payable out of the national treasury, or out of any particular branch of the public revenue, whether employed as a civil or military station, shall receive only one half the pay or allowances of their appointments respectively, without distinction.

Art. II. The principle established by the preceding article shall go into operation in the province of Cundinamarca, on the first day of October next, and shall continue until otherwise ordered.

Let this decree be printed, published, and communicated to the concerned.

Signed by my hand, sealed with my seal, &c. at Santa Fe. 14th September, 1819. (Ninth Year.)

(Signed) S. BOLIVAR. ALEX. OSORIO, Sec'y pro tem.

To the Governors, &c. of the free provinces of New Grenada. SIMON BOLIVAR, President of the Republic, &c.

Feeling that it is expedient in the present state of the republican affairs, that the revenue derived from tithes, should be deposited in the public treasury of the provinces; even under the form of a loan, as the measure might in its tendency derange the system already established, and might be attended with great inconvenience and injury to this important branch of the revenue particularly on account of the impediments which could not arise to the dispositions of the particular board charged with its direction; and as it would be at the same time an abridgement of the authority vested in the said board; you are enjoined and required to afford every protection to the collectors of the tithes in each district of your province, in order that they speedily and without incommutation realise the collection of those funds, which must be deposited in the ecclesiastical treasury, without the least deduction, as has been the practice until lately; because in the exigencies of the state should require the appropriation of a part of those funds for the public service, the government may have it in its power to give the necessary orders for that purpose.

God preserve you many years. S. BOLIVAR. Head Quarters, Santa Fe, 9th Sept. 1819, (9th year.)

DISTINGUISHED CADETS.

At the late examination of the Military Academy at West Point, by the new papers, the following gentlemen were selected, on account of their talents and acquirements, as worthy of having their names inserted, agreeably to the regulations of the Academy, in the Army Register of the United States, as being distinguished in their respective classes. The names of those (all of the senior class) recommended to be commissioned, will be found in the Official List of New appointments this day published.

FIRST CLASS.
1. Stephen Tuttle, of New Jersey.
2. Andrew Donaldson, of Tennessee.
3. Thomas E. Sudler, of Maryland.
4. Wm. H. Bell, of North Carolina.
5. Wm. C. De Hart, of New York.

SECOND CLASS.

3. Frederick T. Culon, of Mississippi.
4. Reuben Holmes, Connecticut.
5. John M'Carthy, of Pennsylvania.

The CORONATION.—Three ladies from the neighbourhood of Hull, anxious to witness the procession which attended the Coronation of George III engaged a room, for which they paid 30 guineas. On their way to take possession of it they were met by a crowd, to avoid which they descended into the cellar of a green grocer. The owner was not in at the time, but returning soon after, and fearing the mob might injure his goods, he immediately let fall a trap door, which he fastened on the outside, and took his departure, leaving the disconsolate trio in "durance vile." Here they remained until all was over, and then the man coming to his shop, found, to his surprise, more than he expected. They were, of course, liberated; and thought, with Franklin, that they had paid "too much for their whistle."

It appears that speculations have already commenced for affording accommodation to those who may be anxious to witness the external exhibitions which may attend the Coronation. Two houses in Great George street, Westminster, have been let at the enormous sum of 2200l each, for the period which the ceremonies may occupy.

CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS.

[We copy the following letter detailed by Dr. Jennings of Va. to Dr. Rush.]

"DEAR SIR

"That theory only is to be considered a rational one which is supported by facts, and will admit of the most practical utility. If the following facts can be of service to you, it will afford me singular satisfaction to have communicated them.

"I, myself furnish the case. My maternal grandmother, my mother, five of her sisters, and four of her brothers, my sister being my mother's first child, and a brother next in succession to me by birth, all of them have been swept off the stage of life, in the course of my recollection, by the fatal disease Phthisis Pulmonalis. From my youth, I was sensible of great debility of the lungs, and was never during that time able to call aloud, read, or sing with ease which is common to other people. I had generally lived a studious and sedentary life, except that I had been the two last years partially engaged in the practice of physic. An offer was at that time made me to take charge of an academy. For the sake of gaining more leisure for the purpose of reading and study, accepted the offer. In the mean time I had been three years occasionally employed in speaking publicly upon religious subjects. From this last engagement I considered my lungs to have gained some strength. It followed, however, that study and confinement did less agree with me than formerly—I could see a daily declension. And at length having been caught in a moderate rain, I was seized with a very severe and obstinate cough I was bled again and again, to no purpose. After a considerable depletion, opium was tried, but in vain—debility, the cough, and every inflammatory symptom increased.

"I had recourse to riding—took a journey of several weeks, and continued to let blood as often as the pains were severe, but still in vain. In the mean time I obtained your inquiries, and immediately turned my attention to the subject which most concerned me. After having read that part of the work, I pursued the following plan, viz:—I let blood moderately every third day, especially if affected with inflammatory symptoms, until with the previous blood-lettings I had been bled fifteen times in the course of five weeks. By this time I was much reduced, but my cough was no better. I then had recourse to the use of the aze, and to labour of the severest kind.

"I could not at the time repeat ten strokes without rest. It would seem in the first instance to increase my cough. The result was, that in two weeks I was nearly recovered.

"Finding much amendment, I grew remiss in my labour; and in a few weeks relapsed, and was nearly as ill as before, for I lost ground rapidly in the second instance. Two bleedings and similar labour, however, finally restored me to good health, and I can now sing loud, and on a sharp and high key, can speak two hours together; and in one word, I consider myself freed from every symptom of that disorder."

After relating the case of his wife, which was similar to that of his own, and which was cured by a similar plan, he concludes thus:—

"I shall offer a short reflection or two drawn from my own case. In the first place, I am persuaded that hard labour, if employed in an early stage, can cure the hereditary predisposition in some cases."

"Hence I further conclude, that consumptive parents ought never choose sedentary or light employments for their children."

"Secondly, I conclude, that although a trotting horse may afford a sufficient exercise for many, yet labour will be far more successful."

"And lastly, in all cases, the labour should be such as to require considerable efforts on the part of the patient."

"I laboured continually, and rarely with sufficient intervals to refresh myself by rest."

I am sincerely, Sir,

Your most obedient,

SAMUEL K. JENNINGS."

From this letter it would seem that the consumption had assumed in Virginia, an attitude as inheritable as her laws of primogeniture.

FROM THE AMERICAN FARMER.

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM.—To prevent fly from destroying turnips, always choose a piece of poor land for your turnip patch, plough and harrow it until you get it very fine, then manure it well with ashes or well rotted stable manure; sow your seed with Indian meal, that you may see whether you sow it too thick or too thinly, then harrow in the seed with an iron tooth harrow, be not afraid of putting them in too deep—if you bush them in, they are scarcely covered, they are up before the root has taken any hold, and lying on the surface of the ground, they nearly all perish the first dry spell that follows after their coming up, and you find it very convenient, without further enquiry, to cry out—Oh! the cursed fly has eat up all my turnips; but choose the poor land, make it fine and rich, and cover your seed deep and the fly will fly away to your neighbours.—The advice here given rests on the authority and practice of an experienced cultivator, on the Reisterstown road, who has not missed a crop of turnips for thirty years; for the common turnip sow between the 20th and the last day of July. If you want them sweet, a week or ten days later will make them so.

STATE OF MISSOURI.

We received by Tuesday night's mail the Constitution of the new state of Missouri, and this day commence its publication. It was our first desire to make an analysis of its provisions. But, the electioneering campaign being over, we do not believe we could offer to our readers a better treat than to give the instrument entire. On account of its length, two or three numbers of the Gazette will be necessarily employed in doing this. We congratulate the patriotic inhabitants of this new REPUBLIC on the able and dignified manner in which they have entered the great contest. The observations they have been enabled to make on the perfections and imperfections of the constitutions of other states, and the very respectable talents employed in the convention, united to produce a charter equal to any in the Union. A national salute was fired on the day it was signed.

EUROPEAN.

Our London dates are as late as the 10th of June. The entrance of the Queen of England into the metropolis produced considerable excitement. So far as our limits permitted, we this day give a detail of the important event. She is justly considered as a rallying point for the people, against the infamous perfidy of the corrupt ministry of the profligate British sovereign. The Queen demands a fair and public trial for supposed distribution of moral virtue. Her right is indubitable—and her wretched husband dare not effect a denial of that demand, without exciting the indignation, contempt and even resistance of the English people. Domestic quarrels do not usually excite such vast curiosity and interest; but when they are resolved into a great national emergency, it is but right they should. The English monarch is notoriously licentious in his amours, and his worthy spouse has been publicly charged with infidelity. From all we can learn she is innocent; and no doubt exists, but that George IV. has employed influential foreigners and others, during Caroline's residence in Italy, to traduce her character, and swear to false tales of infidelity on her part. The fact is, the miserable monster who is seated on the British throne, at this time, is, like many of his vain and pedantic subjects, capable of any meaness whatever. No reconciliation between the parties, of their own management is expected. The King appeals to parliament to maintain the honor and dignity of the crown. The Queen makes an appeal to both the legislature and the nation for the maintenance of her rights, privileges and dignities.

It is contemplated to sacrifice her majesty by a "bill of degradation." We do not believe the throne, backed by all the ministry, will be able to accomplish so nefarious a purpose. A public trial must precede the infliction of any legislative penalty or stigma, and the means of defence are amply within the reach of the royal personage so unjustly abused by the vilest debauchee in Europe. The opposition in parliament have already displayed their devotion to the Queen; and the populace have strongly exhibited their gallantry and attachment by "demolishing the windows of two of the ministers, and sacking the magnificent dwelling of the Marchioness," who has long reigned in the heart of the King.

Ireland is reduced to the sad necessity of mourning over the grave of one of her brightest, truest and most patriotic sons. The distinguished GRATTAN is no more. Unlike many of the Irish characters, this great man was above corruption—above the allurements of sordid Gold. His elevated soul could never be bribed into perfidy. His noble exertions in favor of Catholic emancipation, and in favor of the general interests and freedom of Ireland, will endear him to his warm countrymen as long as time shall last. In short, the British parliament, and the united Kingdom have sustained an irreparable loss. His remains were interred in Westminster Abbey by the side of the celebrated Charles Fox.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

GEORGE A. OTIS, of Philadelphia, is about to publish a translated edition of Botta's history of the American Revolution. We have never seen the work; but have no doubt of its superior excellence. Mr. Welch, in the National Gazette of July 19, eulogizes it, and favors the public with the following letter from the sage of Monticello to Mr. Otis:

MONTICELLO, July 8, 1820.
"Sir—I thank you for De Pradt's Book on the Congress of Aix la Chapelle. It is a work I had never seen, and had much wished to see. Although his style has much too much of amphibology to be suited to the sober precision of politics, yet we gather from him great outlines, and profound views of the new constitution of Europe, and of its probable consequences. These are things we should understand, to know how to keep clear of them."

"I am glad to find that the excellent work of Botta is, at length, translated; the merit of this work has been too long unknown with us. He has had the faculty of sifting the truth of facts from our own histories with great judgment, of suppressing details which do not make a part of the general history, &c. of enlightening the whole with the constant glow of his holy enthusiasm for the liberty and independence of nations. Neutral as an historian should be in the relation of facts, he is never neutral in his feelings, nor in the warm expression of them, on the triumphs and reverses of the conflicting parties, and of his honest sympathies with that engaged in the better cause. Another merit is in the accuracy of his narrative of those portions of the same war which passed in other quarters of the globe, and especially on the ocean. We must thank him too for having brought within the compass of three volumes every thing we wish to know of that war, and in a style so engaging that we cannot lay the book down. He had been so kind as to send me a copy of his work, of which I shall manifest my acknowledgments by sending him your volumes as they come out. My original being lent out, I have no means of collating it with the translation; but see no cause to doubt exactness. With my request to become a subscriber to your work, be pleased to accept the assurance of my great respect."

TH. JEFFERSON.

George Alexander Otis, Philadelphia.

CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

In this Congressional district most of Mr. BARR's friends thought proper to drop him at the opening of the election. The Woodford vote, which we have not received, increases Mr. Woodson's majority considerably. In Mercer, Mr. Uriceo is said to be elected Senator, and Messrs. Moore, McAfee and Thompson representatives.

The republicans of this Congressional district appear to be well satisfied at the election of Mr. Woodson as the successor of Mr. Clay. We certainly should have been gratified if Mr. Barr had been preferred. His known political information and strict republican integrity, and his long residence in the country, give him strong claims to the high opinion of his fellow citizens.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE

State of Missouri.

We the people of Missouri, inhabiting the lines herein after designated, by our representatives in convention assembled at St. Louis, on Monday the 12th day of June 1820, do mutually agree to form and establish a free and independent republic, by the name of "THE STATE OF MISSOURI," and for the government thereof do ordain and establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I.

OF BOUNDARIES.

We do declare, establish, ratify and confirm the following as the permanent boundaries of said state, that it be and beginning in the middle of the Mississippi river on the parallel of thirty-six degrees of north latitude; thence west along the said parallel of latitude to the St. Francis river; thence up and following the course of that river, in the middle of the main channel thereof, to the parallel of latitude of thirty-six degrees and thirty minutes; thence west along the same to a point where the said parallel is intersected by a meridian line passing through the middle of the mouth of the Kansas river, where the same empties in the Missouri river; thence from the point of said intersection, north, along the said meridian line, to the intersection of the parallel of latitude which passes through the rapids of the river Des Moines, making the said line correspondent with the Indian boundary line; thence east, from the point of intersection as aforesaid, along the said parallel of latitude, to the middle of the channel of the main fork of the said river Des Moines; thence down and along the middle of the main channel of the said river Des Moines to the mouth of the same, where it empties into the Mississippi river; thence due east to the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi river; thence down and following the course of the Mississippi river, in the middle of the main channel thereof, to the place of beginning.

ARTICLE II.

OF THE DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

The powers of government shall be divided into three distinct departments, each of which shall be confided to a separate magistracy; and no person charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of those departments shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances herein after expressly directed or permitted.

ARTICLE III.

OF THE LEGISLATIVE POWER.

SECTION 1.—The legislative power shall be vested in a "General Assembly," which shall consist of a "Senate," and of a "House of Representatives."

SEC. 2.—The house of representatives shall consist of members to be chosen every second year by the qualified electors of the several counties. Each county shall have at least one representative, but the whole number of representatives shall never exceed one hundred.

SEC. 3.—No person shall be a member of the house of representatives who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-four years; who shall not be a free white male citizen of the United States; who shall not have been an inhabitant of this state two years, and of the county which he represents one year next before his election; if such county shall have been so long established, but if not, then of the county or counties from which the same shall have been taken, and who shall not, moreover have paid a state or county tax.

SEC. 4.—The General Assembly shall meet in session, and in the year one thousand eight hundred and twenty-two, and one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four, respectively, and every fourth year thereafter, shall cause an enumeration of the inhabitants of this state to be made; and, at the first session after each enumeration, shall apportion the number of representatives among the several counties according to the number of free white male inhabitants therein.

SEC. 5.—The senators shall be chosen by the qualified electors for the term of four years. No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years; who shall not be a free white male citizen of the United States; who shall not have been an inhabitant of this state four years, and of the district which he may be chosen to represent one year next before his election; if such district shall have been so long established, but if not, then of the district or districts from which the same shall have been taken, and who shall not, moreover have paid a state or county tax.

SEC. 6.—The senate shall consist of not less than fourteen, nor more than thirty-three members, for the election of whom the state shall be divided into convenient districts, which may be altered from time to time, and new districts established, as public convenience may require; and the senators shall be apportioned among the several districts according to the number of free white male inhabitants in each, provided, that when a senatorial district shall be composed of two or more counties, the counties of which such district consists shall not be entirely separated by any county belonging to another district, and no county shall be divided in forming a district.

SEC. 7.—At the first session of the General Assembly the senators shall be divided by lot as equally as may be, into two classes. The seats of the first class shall be vacated at the end of the fourth year, so that one half of the senators shall be chosen every second year.

SEC. 8.—After the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-two, all general elections shall commence on the first Monday in August, and shall be held biennially, and the electors, in all cases, except of treason, felony, or breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during their continuance at elections, and in going to, and returning from the same.

SEC. 9.—The governor shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies as may occur in either house of the General Assembly.

SEC. 10.—Every white male citizen of the U. States who shall have attained to the age of twenty-one years, and who shall have resided in this state one year before an election, the last boundary of said state, that it be and in the county or district in which he offers to vote shall be deemed a qualified elector of all elective offices; provided, that no soldier, seaman or marine in the regular army or navy of the United States shall be entitled to vote at any election in this state.

SEC. 11.—No judge of any court of law or equity, secretary of state, attorney general, state auditor, state or county treasurer, register or recorder, clerk of any court of record, sheriff, coroner, member of Congress, no other person holding any lucrative office under the United States, or this state, militia officers, justices of the peace and postmasters excepted, shall be eligible to either house of the General Assembly.

SEC. 12.—No person who now or hereafter may be, a collector or holder of public money, or any assistant or deputy of such collector or holder of public money, shall be eligible to either house of the General Assembly, nor to any office of profit or trust until he shall have accounted for and paid all sums for which he is accountable.

SEC. 13.—No person while he continues to exercise the functions of a bishop, priest, clergyman, or teacher of any religious persuasion, denomination, society or sect whatsoever, shall be eligible to either house of the General Assembly; nor shall he be appointed to any office of profit within the state, the office of justice of the peace excepted.

SEC. 14.—The General Assembly shall have power to exclude from every office of honor, trust or profit within this state, and from the right of suffrage, all persons convicted of bribery, perjury, or other infamous crime.

SEC. 15.—Every person who shall be convicted of having, directly or indirectly, given or offered any bribe to procure his election or appointment, shall be disqualified for any office of honor, trust or profit under this state; and any person who shall give or offer any bribe to procure the election or appointment of any other person, shall, on conviction thereof, be disqualified for an election, or for any office of honor, trust or profit under this state for ten years after such conviction.

SEC. 16.—No Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this state which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased, during his continuance in office, except to such offices as shall be filled by elections of the people.

SEC. 17.—Each house shall appoint its own officers, and shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner, and under such penalties, as each house may provide.

SEC. 18.—Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings; punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member, but no member shall be expelled a second time for the same cause. They shall each, from time to time, publish a journal of their proceedings, except such parts as may in their opinion require secrecy; and the yeas and nays on any question shall be entered on the journals at the desire of any two members.

SEC. 19.—The doors of each house, and of committees of the whole, shall be kept open except in cases which may require secrecy; and each house may punish by fine or imprisonment any person not a member who shall be guilty of disrespect to the house by any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in their presence, during their session; provided, that such fine shall not exceed three hundred dollars, and such imprisonment shall not exceed forty-eight hours for one offence.

SEC. 20.—Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two days at one time, nor to any other place than to that in which the two houses may be sitting.

SEC. 21.—Bills may originate in either house, and may be altered, amended, or rejected by the other; and every bill shall be read on three different days in each house, unless two-thirds of the house where the same is depending shall dispense with this rule; and every bill, having passed both houses, shall be signed by the speaker of the House of Representatives, and by the President of the Senate.

SEC. 22.—When any officer, civil or military, shall be appointed by the joint or concurrent vote of both houses, or by the separate vote of either house of the General Assembly, the votes shall be publicly given viva voce, and entered on the journals. The whole list of members shall be called, and the names of absentees shall be noted and published with the journal.

SEC. 23.—Senators and Representatives shall, in all cases, except of treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and for fifteen days next before the commencement, and after the termination of each session; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

SEC. 24.—The members of the General Assembly shall severally receive from the public treasury a compensation for their services, which may from time to time be increased or diminished by law; but no alteration increasing, or tending to increase the compensation of members, shall take effect during the session at which such alteration shall be made.

SEC. 25.—The General Assembly

shall direct by law in what courts, suits may be brought against the state.

SEC. 26.—The General Assembly shall have no power to pass laws,

First, For the emancipation of slaves, without the consent of their owners; or without paying them before such emancipation, a full equivalent for such slaves so emancipated; and, Second, To prevent bona-fide emigrants to this state, or actual settlers therein, from bringing from any of the United States, or from any of their territories, such persons as may there be deemed to be slaves, so long as any persons of the same description are allowed to be held as slaves by the laws of this state.

They shall have power to pass laws,

Agents for the Gazette.

We have found it necessary to appoint Agents in the different towns where the Gazette is taken throughout the U. States to send a collector to collect the dues, the "toll would eat up the grist." Although a small sum from each: yet with the Printer, it is from small sums larger ones are to grow.

Subscribers are requested to pay their subscriptions to either of the following gentlemen—Those who receive their papers where no agent has been appointed, are requested to remit by mail.

Iron and Castings.

REMOVAL.
THE Lexington Iron Store is now kept at the corner of Main-street and Chesapeake, in the White house lately occupied by J. H.
Anderson, where is now to be found the best assortment of Wrought Iron, probably ever brought to Lexington, consisting of:
Tire of assorted sizes, Axe bar,
Hoe bar, Horseshoe, Scalloped
and square bar;
Also—MILL SPINDLES, CROW-
BAR, SLEDGE and WEDGE
PATTERNS, PLOUGH
IRONS, of various sizes,
Which assortment will constantly be supplied from the State and Red River forges, with from five to ten tons per week, during the season. The quality of this iron needs no better recommendation than the use of it, which has been judged very superior by all that have tried it. Castings of a good quality, and well assorted, constantly on hand; together with every description of Mill Irons.
All orders for Castings will be promptly attended to, and delivered when complete at the Lexington Iron Store.

STRAY COW.

STRAYED from Lexington about the 26th of July, a RED MILK COW—her marks are not exact, recollected, but it is thought she has a crop and slit in right ear—
has tolerable sharp horns, and is in thin order.
Any person giving information of the said Cow to the Printer at the Gazette office, shall be rewarded for their trouble.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE U. STATES

WHEREAS, by an act of Congress passed on the 17th of March, 1820, entitled
"An act to authorize the President of the United States to appoint a Receiver of the public monies and Register of the Land Office for the district of Lawrence county in the Arkansas territory," it is enacted, that any person, having a claim to a right of pre-emption within a certain district, shall make known his claim and location, according to the provision of the laws now in force, to the Register at least six weeks before the time to be designated by the President of the United States for issuing patents to the soldiers of the late army, entitled to bounty land in said district:

Therefore, I, James Monroe, President of the United States, do hereby designate the fourth Monday of November next, as the time at which patents as aforesaid shall commence to issue.

Given under my hand, at the city of Washington, the eighteenth day of April 1820.
JAMES MONROE.

By the President,
JOSEPH MEADE, Commissioner
of the General Land Office.

HOWLER'S GARDEN

Luke Usher,

DEGS leave to inform his friends, and the public, that he has added to his present ESTABLISHMENT, that beautiful and well known place of refreshment and recreation, Fowler's Garden.

Where Ladies and Gentlemen may, at the shortest notice, be accommodated with Dinners or other refreshments, on moderate terms. And in order to render comfortable the situation of Ladies who may be inclined to visit those Gardens, Mrs. Usher has removed to this delightful spot, where she will use her best endeavors to make their visits pleasant and entertaining. And from the assiduous attention which will be paid at all times to his guests at the Gardens, he hopes to give general satisfaction to all who may honor him with their company.

Ran Away

FROM the subscriber, on Friday night last,
a NEGRO MAN SLAVE, named TOM.
He is near six feet high, black skin, handsome form and features, well made and stout, about twenty-four years of age. He can read and perhaps write. As he is well supplied with clothes, it is quite uncertain what he has on;
amongst other articles, he has a handsome blue cloth coat. It is probable that he has taken a young SORREL MARE belonging to the subscriber. The Mare is only three years old, large and tolerably well made—has rather heavy jaws, trots but cannot pace.
For the recovery of the Slave and Mare, or either of them, an adequate reward shall be given.
C. HUMPHREYS.

To the Prisoners of Raison and

Fort Meigs.

IT is well known, that the names and pat-not citizens of Detroit, who, at their own expense, relieved many of you from Indian captivity, have heretofore refused to receive remuneration from any of you, from a belief, that if they were entitled to any, it should be made by the United States. Congress have at last consented to do this act of justice. But to enable those gentlemen to obtain their claims, it is necessary for the prisoners themselves to state in writing what they know as to each case, and swear to, and cause the same to be formally certified by a justice of the peace.

The undersigned have been appointed Agents to take these depositions; and will give their attendance for that purpose, at any time in Lexington during this and the ensuing month, where the ransomed prisoners, or those who have any information respecting such cases, will be pleased to call on them.
Such as cannot attend here, will be pleased to inform us where their depositions may be taken; or where information respecting such cases can be procured.
THO. T. BARR,
JOHN LOHRY.

Lexington, 23d Feby. 1820.

* Dr. BOWER of Georgetown will communicate to us any information which may be given to him on these subjects, and aid any person in taking depositions &c.
